Headline:
Wet today, mostly dry overnight and tomorrow. Strong winds throughout.

Today:
A dry but cloudy start to the day for most. From late morning rain, sometimes heavy, will move in from the west, accompanied by strong winds. Potential for severe gales along the coast. Feeling cold under the rain. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
The day's rain clearing east during the evening, leaving a mostly dry but cloudy night, with scattered showers mostly in the east. Winds remaining strong throughout. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Tuesday:
A generally dry but cloudy day. Some scattered showers, particularly in the east, but they ease as the day progresses. Cloud breaking up towards nightfall. Winds remaining strong throughout. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Wednesday a mixture of sunny spells and showers, with the odd thunderstorm possible, as winds begin easing. Thursday and Friday a chance of heavy cloud and outbreaks of rain.
